 Writing =  *
 - Caroline Charles

For me there's...

When I think about writing,
 I usually talk about it in one of two ways...

HOWEVER...

(sometimes I wish I could move away from creating such a binary)

JOURNAL
 WRITING

- Personal thoughts
- Goals
- SECRETS ☹
- Poetry/songs ♪

ACADEMIC WRITING

- Work
- Applications
- (sometimes personal stuff)
- More Work...

I prefer Handwriting my Ideas
 (because I ♥ my I)

Writing my thoughts is as much of a visual exercise for me as it is anything else

[ I used to practice my letters ]

[ Until my script was ~ Perfect ~ for me ]

Hum...

Sometimes I think about writing
 stories, Poetry, and Songs on my Laptop

Except
 All I ever end up writing about is how FRUSTRATING it is to get started

• WRITING

So, most of the files on my computer are in complete

ooo

Lately, thinking about academic writing has come with a lot of added stress...

But that's natural

This year, I'm hoping that I can somehow combine these types of writing letting my personal writing inform my school work and vice versa

Already I can tell that this going to be a BIG YEAR one where I'll experience a range of different

EMOTIONS

I'll want to fill my journal w/ these feelings

perhaps this writing can help me push through the writing that will be much more challenging
