

How'd You Get There ?????

with Alissa Caron, Class of 2006

If you are interested in ANY of these topics, don't miss this!

- Graduate study at Oxford University
- Global Public Health Care and Health Education
- Community Organizing and Development
- Working in an international setting after Williams
- The rewards and challenges of working for an international NGO
- Living and working in Southeast Asia

Tue, Jan 15, 4pm
Hopkins Hall 001

Alissa Caron was a Spanish and Biology major at Williams College, and she received the Donovan-Moody Fellowship for Graduate Study at Oxford where she received an MSc in Global Public Health and MPhil Comparative Social Politics.

Alissa is currently the Country Director for Population and Development International in Siem Reap, Cambodia

SPONSORED BY THE CAREER CENTER AND OFFICE OF FELLOWSHIPS