6

You don't live on the 5th floor! Too bad you already opened the door to a room that looks just like yours. Well, this is awkward.

7

Pry open the washing machine and scatter the offending person's clothes on the floor (14)

Pick it up and take it upstairs to your ROOM (15)

Leave it. It'll dry one way or another (1)

Cry. (16)

16

You're crying? Really? Don't you have, like, classes or homework or a capella practice?

17

This is a small liberal arts college. You're trying to go unnoticed in a small discussion class. The three people in the room that know who you are look at you strangely. You have to sit through an hour-and-a-half discussion about Global Environmental Politics. Nice one.

18

Cosmo's teaching a class in there. This IS a classroom, you know. (9)

19

People are sitting and having lunch in the IKEA LOUNGE. You don't have any food, because you're not on a full meal plan. Do you:

Sit down in a comfy bean bag (31)

Go get the book you're looking for (32)

23

Stop and say hi to a friend at PARESKY COUCHES (34)

24

Meatless Mondays at DRISCOLL. Yum!

25

You're cleaning? Really? Don't you have, like, classes or homework or a capella practice?

30

Realize you don't belong in the science library. Run to SAWYER and take refuge in the graphic design section on the 2nd floor.

31

Nap time! You missed your afternoon class, though. Take circuitous route back to dorm to avoid chance encounter with prof.

32

Why they put a book about exotic animals and their role in political power in the zoology section you'll never know. (30)

33

You got a flyer. Do you;

Recycle it (35)

Put it back in your mailbox, for you to find tomorrow (36)

Read it (37)

34

The line is miles long. You get your peanut butter and jelly sandwich, you are late to class. Win-lose?

35

Aren't you wonderful.

36

It's ok, I do this too. It's nice to get mail, even if it's the same thing every day.

37

You're reading a flyer? Really? Don't you have, like, classes or homework or a capella practice?
